

Wellers Law Group and people-motion pre-releases new Shared Parental Leave App to progressive innovation partners

You will be aware that the new rules on shared parental leave – while creating welcome opportunities for your people and their families – are going to be challenging to manage. There are significant risks in getting it wrong.

people-motion has today pre-released, to the Wellers Progressive Innovation partner programme, a new Shared Parental Leave app to help Employers of all sizes manage the new Shared Parental Leave legislation. By combining people-motion's transformation and compliance based HR software with Wellers Law Group legal services, Employers can reduce the risks that surround the implementation and management of the new Shared Parental Leave provisions.

This pre-release version of the people-motion software provides a unique opportunity to the Wellers' innovation partners to evaluate the use of this specialized HR software and get the correct Shared Parental Leave advice as an integrated package of technology and Legal advice.

people-motion provides the UK's only HR software dedicated to protecting business from legal risk, as well as helping to reduce complexity, time and cost of new legislation, legal conformance, company restructuring, M&A and other critical people change programmes.

Wellers Law Group Head of Employment and Equality Law, Mark Bainbridge, said, "a common concern of HR Professionals to whom we have spoken is the challenge of implementing this complex legislation. Foremost in employers' minds has been designing and implementing a straightforward policy, which managers can easily use. This is particularly the case with large employers facing multiple requests for continuous and discontinuous leave. In response, we have worked with people-motion to enable the pre-release of the new Shared Parental Leave functionality to the people-motion software, which enables managers to respond to and manage shared parental leave, in line with policy and legal requirements."

Co-founder of people-motion, Philip Clayson said, "The significant addition of the Shared Parental Leave functionality to our software, demonstrates the strength of our innovation relationship with Wellers. The Software integrates all aspects of the Shared Parental Leave processes, keeps managers on track and on time, records key meetings and communications, and provides the facility to consider and respond to multiple requests for shared parental leave. Our objective is to enable managers to focus on meeting their business' requirements, and allow our innovations in software, to help people-managers with complex HR processes such as Shared Parental Leave.

people-motion runs on all tablets, smartphones and PCs giving Wellers' partners and clients both flexibility and efficiency"
